

California College of the Arts Volunteer Agreement

As a volunteer you acknowledge you are not an employee of the college and therefore receive neither compensation of any type, nor do you receive any benefits. In addition, as a volunteer you are not covered by the college's workers' compensation insurance. You are, however, expected to conform to the college's stated policies and procedures, particularly those related to security, safety, and ethical conduct.

Volunteers are covered by the college's policy against harassment and should report to the director of human resources any behavior they feel is contrary to that policy. A copy of that policy is attached.

This agreement must be read, signed, and adhered to by the person supervising the volunteer and the volunteer alike.

Once signed, please submit this agreement to the director of human resources.
